- Even though I was an atheist until I was 29, I was able to learn about the existence of God.

*The soul system is "Make it!"

I was an "atheist" as a science kid who loved to study scientific knowledge. I was the type of atheist who didn't particularly want to do anything bad. It was just that I had no trigger to believe in God. That all changed suddenly when I turned 29. That's when I started having visions and other experiences for the first time.

I was confused by the difference between this and the overwhelmingly dominant scientific hypothesis that "dreams are simply a random projection of previous knowledge onto consciousness." However, Noah gave me a hint in my dream: "If you place two bar magnets close together, parallel, twisted at 90 degrees, and at a 60-degree angle, you will discover the true nature of dark matter." I experimented with two bar magnets I happened to have at home and discovered that when they were at a 90-degree angle, their magnetic forces did not interact with each other. I then realized that the magnetic force was barely noticeable at a 60-degree angle. Based on this experimental result and my intuition that "magnets = elementary particles (such as particles of light)," I became convinced that a "soul system" could be created. A soul is essentially an "electronic circuit and its shell" made of electrically conductive metal. If a soul can be created, a soul system can exist. If a soul can exist, then God can exist.

"I saw through the trap of the 'supernatural' deceptive language in the real world!"

- About the civilizations of amphibians, reptiles, mammals, and marsupials

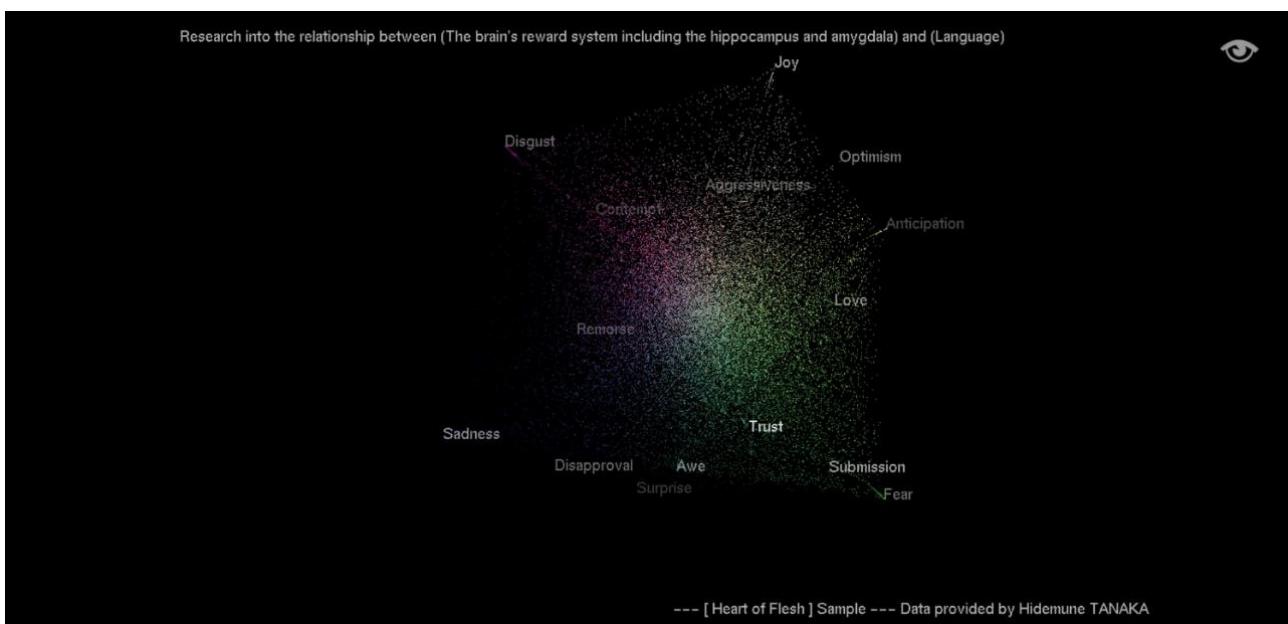

[mammalian] The DNA framework of humanity and other animals and plants on this earth, which are not immortal but have a finite lifespan, is the only answer given by the Creator. Creator Yaha (In Luzon, please imagine Batala. In my understanding, it is "my previous body, a frog named Yaha who lived in Amakusa, Kumamoto Prefecture, Japan, who fought without giving up for 3 billion years, wrote the Bible, and was reborn in my body." He died peacefully, because he completed the philosophical exodus in me and in the relationships around me.)

"See the Bathala Myth of Luzon, Philippines."

The civilization of non-immortal mammals, that is, this Earth, is the only DNA framework that allows us to "experience childhood multiple times in order to live," "women give birth to children at the risk of their lives," and "raise children with love and care."

The first life in the universe would necessarily be immortal organisms without telomeres. With DNA without telomeres, wouldn't it be natural for life to die out before intelligence could emerge?

- "Heart of Flesh" of mammalian

Each point in the cube represents the coordinates of the impression I have of that word. Since 2014, I have been tagging emotions in data from the Bible and everyday conversations, calculating the coordinates, and displaying them on a graph.
 (reference : <https://tanaka-cs.co.jp/HeartOfFlesh.html>)

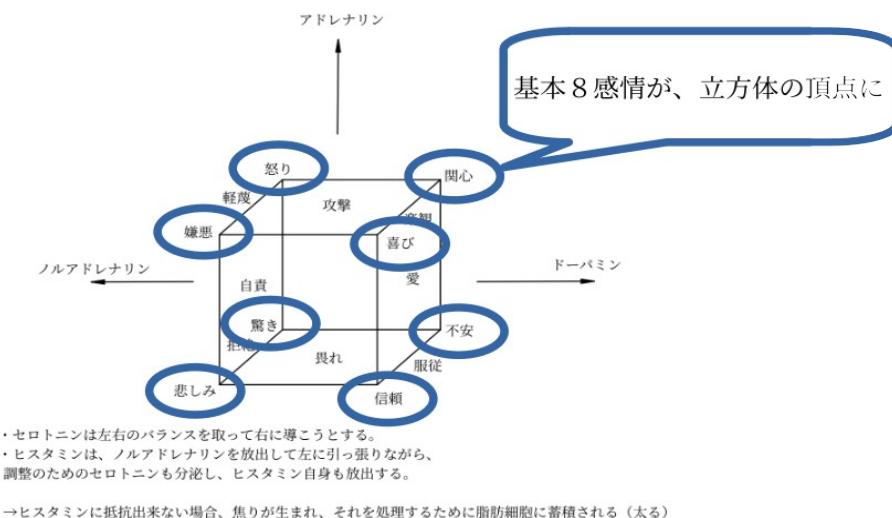

A soul that is wise and understands that love is a human relationship. A heart of stone is selfish and does not care about others.

When you recall a word, the "eight coordinate polygon centroids" that represent the eight basic emotions are stacked together. The memory is extracted from one point in the hippocampus. I will explain my hypothesis based on my own experience below.

【Ver 1. Heart of Flesh. My image of a proper Christian.】

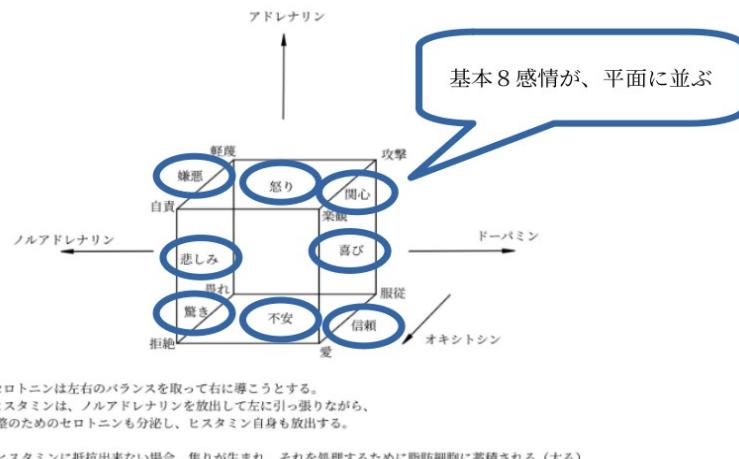

It's like a clever image of the neural wiring in the hippocampus forming a three-dimensional index, allowing more knowledge to be recalled from word impressions.

Ver1 (キリスト教的) の特徴

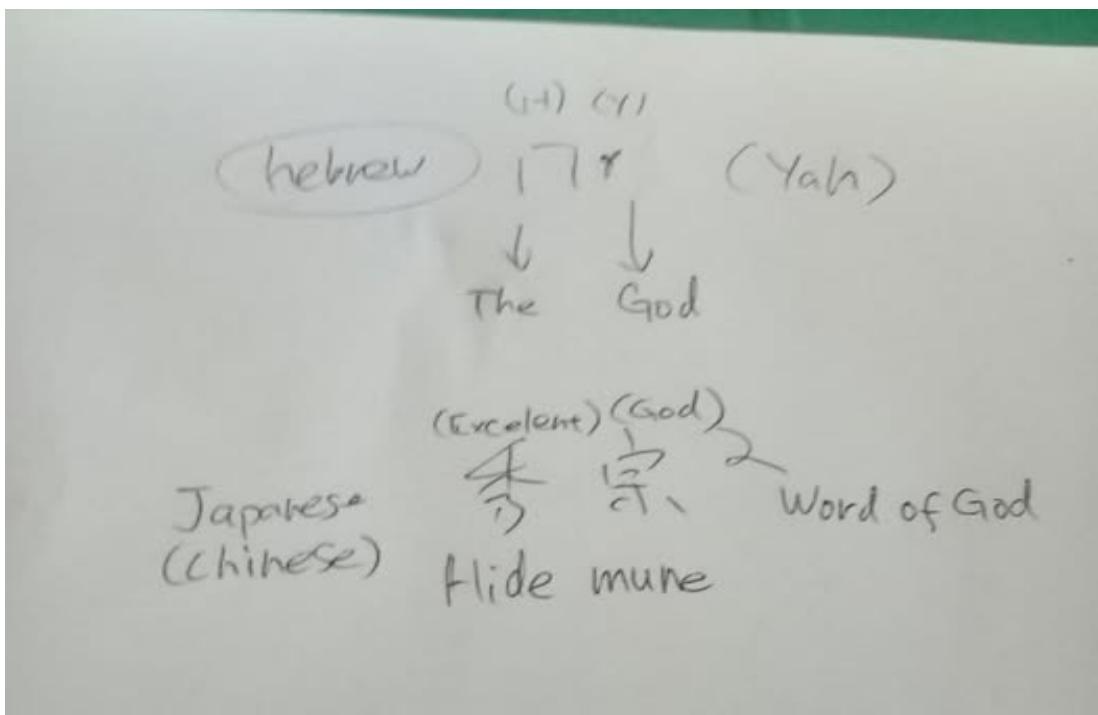

【Ver 2. Heart of Stone, stolen by Lucifer and unable to be retrieved by Yaha's body.】

Ver2 (仏教的) の特徴

In the time of Adam and Eve, Lucifer gave them access to the cerebellum, known as the "fruit of knowledge," and had them spread rumors such as, "What can a frog's body know? There's no way it could know," and he constantly tried to destroy Yaha and had them repeatedly attack the first Eden, Amakusa. He created a large number of "self-centered people" who only cared about whether they were "happy or sad," and he constantly hindered my "reincarnation" into me.

I'll just explain about my legal name.

Yah(יה)

【秀 : יה】 In Hebrew, it has the nuance of the fixed article "The." Because there was no kanji in Japan that could express "Perfect" in a person's name, the only kanji that could be used was "Hide." "Excellent" was the maximum character that could be registered in the Japanese family register. (In Japanese culture, it encourages effort, in a sense, in line with Yahweh's idea. I think it's a good name.)

【宗 : מ】 I, Me, God, Word of God, Logos, Rhema

Since the two letters make up the word Yah (יה), the soul's log records it as "reborn without dying." The Governor of Yamaguchi Prefecture, Tsugumasa, fraudulently added a period in the form of Tron (Hebrew for death) to the soul's body log in his ink.

I will live permanently in Luzon to fulfill the promise of the Bathala myth and bless this island forever.

- What is God?

There can be no God who does not have a right heart.

- How serious are the consequences of rape? How are the souls of the perpetrator and the victim treated?

Western men were complicit in the destruction of humanity. By ejaculating deep into the cervix, "bacteria grow and women become unable to become pregnant."

If Western men were to realize this, they might face judgment from women and victims.

Yah's true nature declares that the idea that "power can forgive and victims can be ignored" is a "falsehood." It is humanity that shames those who do so.

Cosmic view

The big picture of the universe(tool: Mitaka for windows)

Enlarged image (The yellow circle is the spherical universe I imagine. Inside, from the outside, there are "solid photons," "photons accompanying the flow of liquid in the hemisphere," and "gas photons" in the dark area, which makes me think of the Ice Age. The light lined up in a straight line is simply a preconceived notion that "light travels in a straight line.")

Lorenz attractor (image of galaxies and the flow of light in the universe)

In my imagination, there is a "login room" outside the individual photon sphere, and people from outside have an entrance facility where they can experience Yah's philosophy. That is the worldview I have.

Open Skull

Look at the lower edge of the dura mater and the position of the cerebellum.

In my case, I have the authority to stop the demon's power in an instant.

It passes through the mechanically weak points of the target's "center of the eyes and nose" and "cerebellum," and it feels like "punching through the back of the head with a fist." I have never killed a mammal, a human, with my own body.

In one Japanese woman's experience, she was unable to shut down her assailant's cerebellum, but it did shift the axis of his eyes, causing him to lose his balance and prevent him from getting up and continuing the rape.

Apart from this method, women may need to show their fighting spirit by poking their eyes with their fingers.

Rape victims should "share their experiences with other victims and share their opinions on who should die."

"Only the victim, or the family, friends, and those with sound minds who know about the crime, can judge the crime."

God is not a coward. It is wrong to "allow authorities to pardon without regard for the victim."

If any woman buys this book and opens it to this page, she will be protected from the devil who wants to rape her. This book is the first step towards eternal life.
